

B.Sc. I SEMESTER

15101- INDIAN CONSTITUTION (Minor - 1 Elective)

Course - UG

Credit - 4

Maximum Marks - 75 + 25

Programme Outcome -

This minor paper is taught in the B.Sc. I semester for all students in all combinations. The intention of studying the Indian Constitution as foundation course is to bring perspective to the current economic, social and political climate in the country using constitution as the parameter. Students become aware of their basic rights and how these duties manifest in our Constitution. Combining the knowledge about the Indian Constitution and Political System will help students be aware and claim their rights as citizens of India.

Outcome / Objective -

1. To make students aware about the legacy leading to the formation of Indian constitution, various sources from which features were adopted and the salient features.
2. To enable student to understand the structure and functioning of union and State Government including the place lecture is due to and the judiciary.
3. To make student understand the various emergency provisions and the procedures relating to any constitutional amendment incorporated in Indian Constitution.

Course Outcome -

1. Able to understand about Indian Constitution, its features and functioning.
2. Differentiate and relate the functioning of Indian Parliamentary system at the centre and state level.
3. Differentiate different aspect of local government system and judiciary.
4. This course is designed to acquaint students with the basic principles of constitution and constitutionalism.
5. The reason and justification of the growth of fundamental rights
6. The operation of Fundamental Rights Directive Principles in India and its effect is to be studied
7. The basic knowledge of Legislature Executive and Judiciary is to be taught with the help of political system.