

Dayanand Vedic College, Orai

Co-curricular Course: Semester III

Course Title: Human Values and Environmental Studies

Course Outcomes

Course outcomes: The aim of the course on Human Values and Environmental Studies is to instill ethical and moral principles among students and educate them about societal and environmental concerns. This course works towards following Course Objectives (COs):

CO 1: To build fundamental knowledge about the interplay of ethics and laws.

CO 2: To equip students to deal with various challenges in navigating complex situations where conflicting ethical principles or values are at play.

CO 3: To increase understanding of the core concepts of business ethics and corruption/anti-corruption activities.

CO 4: To increase awareness about the issues of sustainable development for a better environment.

CO 5: To teach students about environmental degradation and preventive measures to address it.

CO 6: To increase awareness about sustainable practices and efforts at National and International level to conserve the environment.

CO 7: To study about the initiatives and efforts taken by the United Nations and India towards Sustainable Development.

CO 8: To contribute to the character development of the students and create a sense of responsibility among them towards one's community and the larger society.

CO 9: To shape students into responsible, ethical, and environmentally conscious individuals who can address the challenges prevalent in the society and make a positive impact.